FACE

For our facial treatments and manicures, we use the highly effective skincare products from DOCTOR Mi! medical skincare – developed by Dr. Miriam Rehbein, a board-certified dermatologist.

The patented TECMi!® technology allows active ingredients to penetrate deep into the skin, where they can fully unleash their regenerative effects. The result is visibly improved skin with maximum tolerability.

DOCTOR Mi! combines medical expertise with modern cosmetics and is now one of the most innovative skincare brands on the market.

DOCTOR MI!

MEDICAL SKINCARE

Science meets innovation.

DOCTOR MI! medical skincare promotes skin cell renewal through innovative technologies and highly effective ingredients, without compromising on efficacy or tolerability.

This skincare line from DOCTOR MI! is the result of scientific studies combined with the extensive expertise of dermatologist Dr. Miriam Rehbein, the brand's developer and founder.

BODY

For our body treatments, we rely on the high-quality skincare products from LA BIOSHÉTIQUE, which has stood for holistic beauty, quality, and sustainability since 1948.

Developed and produced in the heart of the Black Forest, LA BIOSHÉTIQUE combines nature-based ingredients with cutting-edge research.

The treatments combine soothing care with deep relaxation and support your body's natural regeneration.

For our massages, we use pure almond oil for optimal skin compatibility and nourishment.

SOUL

LA BIOSTHETIQUE® PARIS

Craftsmanship meets cutting-edge science.

The company's in-house laboratories develop high-quality products that combine effectiveness, naturalness, and quality.

Approximately 90 percent of the ingredients used are of natural origin and are rigorously tested before being processed.

Research, development, and application are closely intertwined: scientists and application experts work together on formulations that meet the highest professional standards.

The result is a range of treatments that not only relax but also noticeably rejuvenate – combining the best of nature and science.

ACHIEVE HOLISTIC WELL-BEING

Osteopath Anne Büttner (alternative practitioner, osteopath D.O. Holist«a, M.Sc.) combines her in-depth knowledge of anatomy and physiology with effective manual examination techniques. A personal consultation paves the way for a customized treatment plan aimed at holistic well-being (activating, improving, and strengthening your body’s self-healing processes).

A holistic perspective

Osteopathy is a holistic form of treatment for the body, mind, and spirit. As a distinct form of therapy, diagnosis and treatment are performed using the hands.

The goal of osteopathic treatment is to get to know and understand you as a person —not just as a patient. We work with you to activate, enhance, and strengthen your body’s natural healing abilities in order to promote your overall well-being. This can result in, for example, the release of blockages and tension in the tissues, as well as increased vitality and energy.

Osteopathy does not treat specific diseases or symptoms, but rather the whole person within the context of their individual environment and behavior. With its holistic effect on body, mind, and spirit, a treatment can catalyze profound change and release new energy.

OSTEOPATHY THAT TAKES ITS TIME

Following a detailed initial consultation, diagnosis and treatment are performed manually. To identify restricted movement and tension, the examination involves palpating the tissue layer by layer to assess deeper structures. Due to individual differences, the desired response to osteopathic treatment may not occur until some time later or after several sessions.

 Depending on your insurance plan and the diagnostic tests performed, costs may be covered. This depends on the terms of your individual policy. For more information, please visit www.hotel-riva.de/wellbeing/ or contact your health insurance provider.*
